

Thursday 7th January 2021

Hi Year 5,

I'm missing you all so much - it feels very weird not seeing your smiley faces every day and it was horrible not even being able to say goodbye to you all. Lots of you have been doing some fantastic work on Teams and I am so proud of how hard you have been trying. Just remember, once you have completed your work, you should upload it onto your Class Notebook or into the files section. There is a document called 'how to upload your work' in the files section if you have forgotten though. Try to upload your work daily but if not, by the end of the week. If all else fails though, there are plenty of other ways you can share your work: you could post work through our letter box, tweet me or send it in via enquiries@grimoldby.lincs.sch.uk. If you are still having problems accessing Teams, please tell your parents to let us know via the enquiries email address above.

If you have any questions, you can write in the posts section, which is the quickest way to get a response, and means that others can see it too if they have similar questions. Please keep checking the posts wall daily as I will be posting updates and any important information regularly. Whole class feedback will also be posted on the wall, as opposed to your notebooks, and the answers to the Maths worksheet will be uploaded the following day so please check your own answers.

If you have forgotten your Bug Club or TTRS login, please let me know via Teams and I will upload it into your Notebook and just a little reminder that, as I have mentioned before, you should not be using the chat feature at all. This includes messaging, videoing or calling teachers, or each other. Anyone found to be doing this will have their parents notified but I know that you lot are too fantastic, and honest and trustworthy for that to be necessary.

I know that some of you have been a little confused about the timetable. I left it on there as a handy tool to follow in the mornings but, for this week, remember not to follow the structure in the afternoons. Anyway, this will be updated next week with a brand-new timetable which will show what we will be doing each afternoon. Remember, you don't have to follow the timings exactly, but it may be useful, and don't forget to keep reading every day.

As we discussed on Monday, our new project is called Off with Her Head and is based on the Tudor period. Even though we are not in school, we will still be working on this as well as working towards being able to answer our driving question – Was Henry VIII really that bad? You will find our knowledge organiser containing all of the important information about this project on the reverse of this letter so make sure you learn it all. You could even have some quizzes at home.

Finally, I am happy to tell you that on Friday 8th January, we will be having a video meeting on Teams at 1.15pm. Like before, do not try and join too early as you will not be able to get in, and remember to stay muted until I tell you otherwise. I can't wait to see you then. In the meantime, keep working hard and making me proud.

See you all soon and stay safe,

Miss Milson
