

Monday 27th April

Hi Year 4,

We miss you all so much! It feels so weird not seeing your beautiful smiling faces every day. We definitely can't wait to be greeting you all with a huge wave and toothy smile as you turn the corner in the corridor every morning. Seeing your beautiful smiling faces and what you have been doing on Twitter definitely puts the biggest smiles on our faces so PLEASE keep tweeting. We know some of you are not on Twitter so we wanted to write this letter to say hi!

So, what have you all been doing to fill your days? Mrs Stubbs has started running! She's certainly not a runner but she has given it a good go. She's been going for a run every other day and so far she has managed to run 5 kilometres with her best time being 32.53mins. Her target is to reach 30minutes so she has got a lot of work to do. She has also been practising hanging spoons off her nose with her children, Theo and Jessie. What funny things have you learnt whilst being at home? We would love you to share your funny tales or jokes so we can laugh and smile with you! It is so important to take time as a family sharing jokes, playing games and watching funny movies together.

Mrs Smith has been trying really hard to complete Joe Wicks work outs in a morning but with a Hallie sized weight jumping on her during the frog leaps and Spiderman lunges, she finds it pretty tricky and they usually end up in a collapsed heap on the floor. She has also explored so much of the village which she lives in by going on daily walks. So far, she has discovered a beautiful creek and the best bridge to play pooh sticks on. What daily exercise have you been doing? Has anyone carried on with yoga? We have put some fantastic yoga websites on the Year 4 page of the school website this week. Take a look! It would be great to see some poses on Twitter!

As some of you may have seen on Twitter, Mrs Smith has been out in her garden planting some seeds. She will add a new photo soon as the little seedlings are growing really tall now. They are about ready to be planted in the garden. Well done to those who guessed she was growing sunflowers! Mrs Stubbs has also been spending lots of time in the garden too with her children Jessie and Theo planting seeds, weeding, cutting the grass and painting outdoor furniture. She's also washed the car! On one of the days when it wasn't so warm, Jessie and Theo helped Mrs Stubbs with baking bread. It was their first time baking bread but surprising it turned out really well! Have you got any favourite games to play outside or done something surprising?

Currently, we're both reading our class book. It is called 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea. If you have it at home join in with reading it. Don't worry if you don't though as we have added some fantastic ocean themed books to all of you on Bug Club. Don't forget – we can see exactly what you've been up to on Bug Club so if you haven't logged in yet, we're watching you 😊.

We really hope you have enjoyed hearing what your teachers have been up to during these strange times. It would be absolutely amazing if you could write back to our letter to let us know how you are doing and what you have been up to. There's plenty of ways to send your reply – you could perhaps write a letter and take a picture to upload to Twitter @grimoldby4, you could send the letter to school or you could even post the letter through the school letterbox on a daily walk if you live in the village.

We're both really looking forward to hearing from you! Remember to keep having fun, take regular breaks and keep talking.

See you all soon,

Mrs Smith and Mrs Stubbs
