

Thursday 28th February 2019

Dear Parents,

As mentioned in our February Newsletter before half term, it's World Book Day on Thursday 7th March and we'll be dressing up as our favourite book characters! Home-made costumes are welcomed – especially as the money saved can go towards books! If you're stuck for inspiration, there is plenty of information and tips online for creating an awesome costume.

As well as dressing up, we will also be taking part in some very special story sharing – the theme for this year's World Book Day. Children will be spending part of the morning with a different teacher whereby they will hear a story and produce some work based around it. Be sure to check out our class Twitter pages to see this in action.

Book tokens should have already gone home with your child and the quality of books that they can get completely free with their voucher has, once again, increased even more this year. Please make sure you put them to good use (don't forget that you can also use it for £1 off another book at participating retailers).

I look forward to seeing all of the characters next Thursday!

Yours faithfully,

Mr Spendlow
