

Thursday 16th October

Dear Parents and Carers,

We are delighted to share that your child has taken part in a very special local art project this term: Freedom: Then & Now, a public artwork commemorating 80 years since VE Day and the end of the Second World War.

As part of this exciting initiative, children from our school contributed drawings that reflect what freedom means to them today. These images have been included in a stunning giant mosaic created by artist Allan Levy, alongside thousands of others from schools, families, and communities across Lincolnshire.

The final artwork will be unveiled at Lincoln Arts Centre on Remembrance Sunday, 9th November and we warmly invite you and your family to attend this meaningful event:

- 17:00 – 18:00: Outdoor illumination of the public artwork
- 18:00 – 18:30: Indoor special event with live music and speeches

This is a wonderful opportunity to see your child's contribution as part of a county-wide celebration of creativity, history, and community spirit. The artwork will remain on display throughout November, offering a chance for reflection and celebration of the freedoms we enjoy today.

We are incredibly proud of our pupils for taking part in this inspiring project and hope you'll join us in celebrating their creativity and the powerful message behind this artwork.

Warm regards,

Mrs Smith
