

Thursday 25th February 2021

Dear Parents/Carers,

On Thursday 4th March, it's World Book Day! As we all know, reading is the most important skill that children need to nurture as it underpins many things that they do during their time in school and life beyond. Therefore, we'll still be celebrating World Book Day but just remotely.

Don't panic – we're not asking anyone to dress up this year! Instead, we're having an EXTREME READING challenge. We challenge children (and their parents/carers if they wish) send in or tweet a picture of them reading in an extreme (but safe and lockdown-allowed) place. We can't wait to see some of the creative ideas that our families come up with. The poster is on the next page of this letter and you're sure to see it on Twitter too.

Teachers will also be continuing to promote a love of reading on World Book Day and please do reinforce this at home by sharing books, stories or chatting about favourite reads.

Book tokens will be sent out from Monday 8th March once all children are back in school. Please make sure you put them to good use (don't forget that you can also use it for £1 off another book at participating retailers).

Get creative and get snapping away!

Yours faithfully,

Mr Spendlow
Deputy Head Teacher

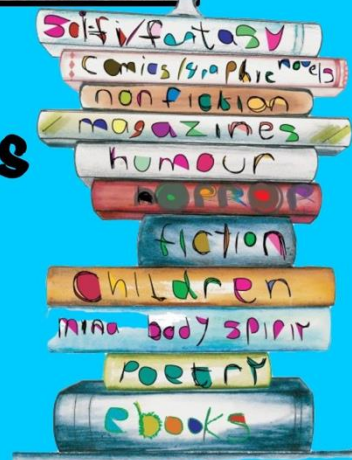

WORLD
BOOK DAY

Thursday 4th March

EXTREME READING

Tweet or send us pictures of you reading in the craziest of places!

(Important: Make sure it's safe and allowed)